

of mother. There were 26 grandchildren and 6 great grandchildren.

For more than a year she suffered with a complication of diseases which finally overcame the physical body and the soul of mother Hendrix went home to God. She was patient and composed thro it all, and when the final conquest came she was ready to go. She remembered those around her with tokens of love and was grateful to them for their loving care for her while her Sun was going down.

She united with the Brethren church, January 10, 1891, from which time she was a consistent member, lending her aid to the cause in many ways. She died in the triumph of a living faith. Sister Hendrix will be missed in the sphere in which she moved, when she was able. When it was possible for her to get to church, she was there.

Mother Hendrix was carefully cared for at the home of Brother Polk during her affliction and death. Funeral in the Christian church in Burlington to a large audience. Interment in the cemetery near by.

WM. W. SUMMERS.

ROBISON.—At Meyersdale, Pa., Sept. 14, 1898, of typhoid fever, sister Lettie E. Robison wife of James Robison and daughter of brother and sister Peter Shultz, aged 20 years, 1 month and 15 days. The departed was a kind loving daughter, wife and mother. A very interesting eight month old babe, with husband, parents and many friends mourn this untimely death. The heartfelt sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved friends.

J. H. KNEPPER.

Messenger please copy.

Twenty Funny Stories of MARK TWAIN

They relate to Mark Twain's eccentricities, and his aptness in making the most ordinary episodes appear ludicrous. The stories are brimful of fun.

When I Stood Face to Face With Death

General A. W. Greely, the great Arctic explorer, tells here, for the first time in print, the graphic story of his fearful exile of 278 days at the North Pole, when his comrades daily dropped dead at his side, and when all waited day by day for death to come.

Miss Wilkins in Her New England Home

An entire photographic page will show the author of "Jerome" and "Pembroke" as she is at home: her friends as they grouped around her; going out to walk with her dog; with her favorite cat; and in an evening gown ready for a reception.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

Was established in 1728 by Benjamin Franklin. It is handsomely illustrated and gives weekly the best serials, short stories and sketches the world can produce. The regular subscription price is $2.50 per year. Both our publications, balance of the year as an introduction, for only Twenty-five Cents.

John Wanamaker's Sunday-School

The Most Interesting Sunday-School in America

How it has grown to be a factor in a city's life, together with the wonderful man who has devoted his energies to its development. Illustrated.

These are Some of the Special Features in the October Number of

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL

We will mail The Ladies' Home Journal from now until January 1, 1899, and The Saturday Evening Post, every week from now until the end of the year, on receipt of only Twenty-five Cents.

THE CURTIS PUBLISHING COMPANY, PHILADELPHIA